Prelude

"Ukrainian Alleluia"

by Craig Courtney

Tim Hendrix, Heather Choplin, and Elizabeth Worley

In the summer of 2007, composer Craig Courtney was part of a mission team that traveled to the Ukraine. Courtney observed: "Due to its geographical position and rich natural resources, the country has a history of foreign invasion, occupation, and oppression." Moved by the fact that over 25 million Ukrainians died in the 20th century due to starvation, war, and the worst nuclear accident (Chernobyl) in history, Courtney composed a new choral piece called "Ukrainian Alleluia", with only one word - "Alleluia". He describes the piece as a "musical portrayal of the Ukrainians' voice of faith, strength, and hope in the midst of unimaginable suffering and tragedy." Early in 2022, in light of the most recent conflict of the Russian invasion, Courtney reimagined the composition as a piano solo. Today, we share it as a piano prelude paired with excerpts of the vocal work.

† Call to Worship

Anna Beth Cross

One: O LORD, how manifold are your works! In wisdom you have made them all; the earth is full of your creatures.

All: When you send forth your spirit, they are created; and you renew the face of the ground.

One: So, make a joyful noise to the Lord, all the earth.

All: We will serve the Lord with gladness and come into God's presence with singing.

One: Each generation will commend your works to the next, declaring your mighty acts.

All: For You are good; Your steadfast love endures forever and Your faithfulness extends to all generations.

This text affirms that the images we use for God can be inspired by either gender because both males and females reflect the image and likeness of God (Genesis 1:27). Similarly, since God is with us at all stages of life, all ages hold the potential to reveal something about God.
